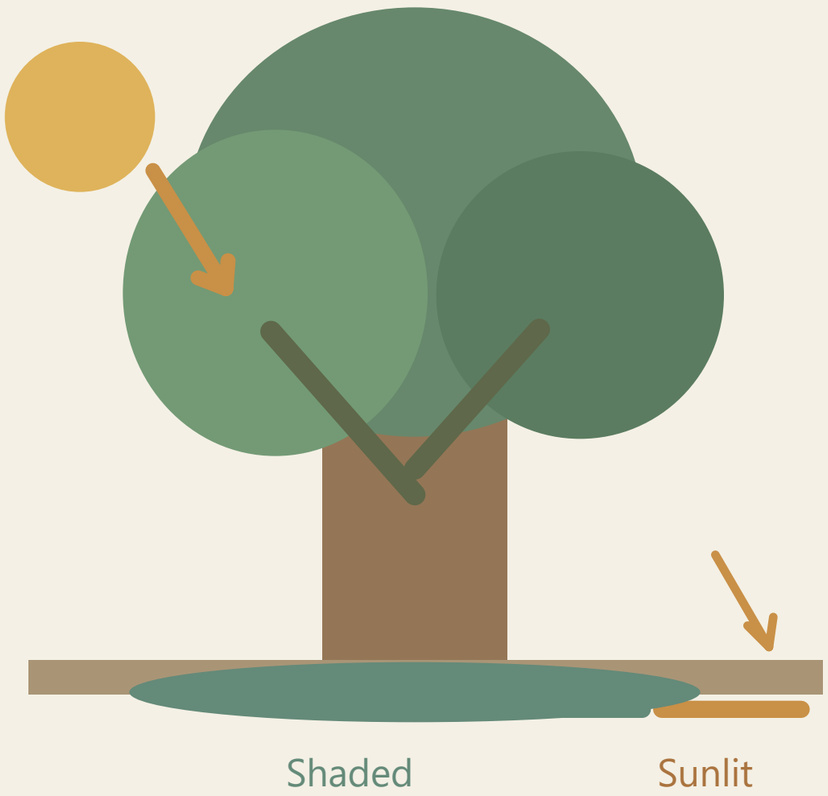
How trees cool a street.

Two connected processes help reduce urban heat.

1 / SHADE



Leaves intercept sunlight.
Less solar energy heats the surface.

2 / EVAPOTRANSPIRATION

Water released through leaves evaporates, using heat from air.

Effects depend on tree cover, water availability and local conditions.

Concept diagram | Source: US EPA, Benefits of Trees and Vegetation.